
ST. LOUISAN TELLS OF MCCOY'S FIGHT

The Young Hoosier Announces His Retirement From the Prize Ring.

A dispatch from New York to the Post-Dispatch announces the retirement of "Kid" McCoy from the pugilistic ring. McCoy made up his mind to quit fighting immediately after his narrow escape from a knockout at the hands of Kid Carter in Philadelphia last Monday night.

McCoy is carrying his right arm in a sling. He says that after the second round in the fight with Carter his right hand was helpless. He thinks he hurt it by landing a hard swing on Carter's head. McCoy speaks lightly of Carter's prowess as a fighter, but says that he was far from being whipped.

"He is a clever, hard-hitting young fellow," says McCoy, "and he gave me much more than I expected. But had the mill lasted longer I would certainly have been returned the victor, for I was just rounding into form by the end of the sixth round. I am through with the game forever. I don't like it any more. Training is a constant wear on a man, and too irksome."

Speaking of the McCoy-Carter mill at St. Louis, who witnessed the contest and who has just returned, said Thursday:

First Round

Was McCoy's.

"During the first round McCoy had matters pretty much his own way, but at the end of the second round Carter dropped McCoy with a right swing which landed fairly on the jaw. McCoy went down and staggered to his feet.

Carter was after him like a bull and another right swing on the jaw sent him sprawling against the post. He was gone, but the going sounded five seconds after he struck the floor the second time he was lifted to his corner. Had the blow been delivered ten seconds previously McCoy would have been counted out.

"In the next round Carter sent McCoy to grass a second time and the famous middle-weight was forced to take ten seconds' count.

"Again did Carter upset McCoy's equilibrium and seven seconds were counted before the Kid sufficiently recovered to continue the contest, and here the bell came to the timely aid of McCoy, who was staggering blindly across the ring. Again did McCoy negotiate with the ring floor in the fourth round and took the count.

"I kept tab on the six rounds, and made notes of them. Here they are:

The Fight

By Rounds.

FIRST ROUND—Carter led his left, which reached McCoy's chin. McCoy retaliated with right on head and light left on the jaw. Carter reached the Kid's head and swung hard right on eye. McCoy put his left on Carter's nose and swung right on jaw. The men clinched. Carter landed a nice left on McCoy's nose, and the latter jabbed his left repeatedly on Carter's nose and eye. Both men were cautioned in this round for hitting on the breakaways. This was McCoy's round.

SECOND ROUND—The Hoosier Kid worked his left to advantage three times without receiving a return. Carter fought with a heavy swing on the neck which jarred McCoy. The latter got a wicked uppercut which shook Carter up. Carter landed on the eye and both men fought wildly. Carter was bleeding, and the Kid kept up his blows until the latter was down in an opening, and with a right swing put his man down. McCoy staggered to his feet only to receive another smash on the head. He went down again until the friendly song came to his assistance.

THIRD ROUND—McCoy's recuperative powers were in evidence when he came up for the third round, but Carter was after him and landed a swing on the jaw, which he followed with a left on the ribs. McCoy reached his man's mouth and rib with left and right, when Carter drove his left into McCoy's jaw. The latter was down for the count. He managed to stagger to his feet. He kept away from Carter and evaded the blows. He landed a left jab flush in the face when Carter swung his right like a flail, and McCoy was up again. On the count of eight he was up again, but wobbling and weak. Carter again staggered McCoy with a left on the jaw, and the Hoosier was in Queer street, but the game came to his relief.

McCoy Was Almost Out.

FOURTH ROUND—McCoy staggered Carter with a left on the jaw and received a similar punch in return. The men fought wildly. McCoy again reached Carter's jaw with a vicious uppercut and followed it with a wicked jab on the nose which made Carter see stars. Carter then swung his left squarely on McCoy's jaw and again the count was taken. McCoy caught Carter twice on the face and the two found them clinched and feeling very tired.

ROUND FIVE—Carter again began hostilities and swung on McCoy's chest. McCoy landed twice on the face. Carter's right reached Mac's stomach and the men kept at it hammer and tongs, science for a time was to the wind and both men fought valiantly for a final blow. McCoy ran away from Carter and as the round closed head received two hard raps on the jaw. He was in a bad way as he went to his corner.

ROUND SIX—McCoy showed the benefit of the hard work of his seconds and landed three successive jabs on Carter's nose. He then ran into a wicked left swing which straightened him up. Carter followed this up with a hard left on neck, and the men clinched. Carter again reached the neck with a right swing and planted a beauty on McCoy's nose. Both men did short arm work and McCoy's face was reached twice by Carter. McCoy worked his left on Carter's nose, which was covered with blood. He swung wildly right and left, but missed. Carter landed hard right and left when the count sounded. McCoy was lifted to his corner almost gone.

MARTINELLI LIKES AMERICA.

"People Are So Loyal, Frank and True," He Says.

ROME, May 22.—Cardinal Martinelli, in an interview, said:

"My sojourn in America will be one of the brightest recollections of my ecclesiastical career. I shall never forget the states, where I was the object of such true courtesy, and where the people are so loyal, frank and true. I shall consider America my second country."

CORONATION CARDS ISSUED.

Eight inches by ten and full of Gold Letters.

LONDON, May 22.—Invitations for the coronation have been issued.

The card is about 10 inches by 8. In the center is the invitation in gold letters. At the top corners are the arms of the King and Queen, and around the card runs a decorative border, in which devices emblematic of the United Kingdom and the colonies are introduced into an elaborate design.

ENGLISH DOUBT SINCERITY.

Think America Will Gladly Accept Opportunity to Absorb Cuba.

LONDON, May 22.—English press comments on the inauguration of the President of the Cuban republic provide interesting reading.

The expectation is generally expressed that the infant republic will at no very remote date be absorbed into the United States on the ground that the islanders had proven their inability to govern themselves when they had a fair trial.

The meaning of this is that few persons have ever seriously imagined that the independence of Cuba would become an accomplished fact, and although the United States is heartily congratulated on the fulfillment of its pledge, most editorialists say that Uncle Sam will gladly welcome any opportunity that will give him excuse for adding the "Pearl of the Antilles" to his property.

"Boro-Formalin" (Elmer & Amend) used as tooth and mouth wash in the morning leaves mouth sweet and pure all day.

SHE TOOK LAUDANUM.

Mrs. May Hubbard of Colorado Springs Found Unconscious on the Street.

Mrs. May Hubbard, wife of John Hubbard, a mining engineer of Colorado Springs, Colo., was found unconscious early Thursday morning on the sidewalk at the northeast corner of Nineteenth and Chestnut streets. She was suffering from laudanum poison.

After she reached the hospital Mrs. Hubbard lapsed into a stupor.

When she was able to talk she declared that she did not know what prompted her to take the drug and she was sure she had not taken it with suicidal intent.

Further, she added that she had been out with a friend during the evening but he had left her before midnight and she started home alone.

Mrs. Hubbard said she had been in St. Louis about three weeks and was visiting her brother, whose name she refused to disclose.

"I lost a diamond brooch and diamond ring. They were worth about $300."

THINK PEACE NEAR AT HAND

NOTHING DEFINITE COMES FROM PRETORIA CONFERENCE.

BOERS MEET GEN. KITCHENER

London War Office Intimates That an Announcement of Result May Be Made Soon.

LONDON, May 22.—The opinion here is that all the signs are propitious but, up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, the British officials had given no indication of the course which the negotiations between Lord Kitchener and Lord Milner and the Boer delegates at Pretoria were taking.

That conferences are occurring regarding the basis on which peace shall be declared is the sum total of the information which the war office has vouchsafed up to the present, though it is intimated that a definite announcement of the result, peaceful or otherwise may be speedily expected.

The impression that peace is close at hand has obviously taken a strong hold on operators on the stock exchange. The buying of consols and gilt-edged South African shares continues, it is believed, in behalf of well informed investors.

BOER DELEGATES IN PRETORIA

They Meet There According to Arrangements With British and Occupy House Next Kitchener's

PRETORIA, May 22.—In accordance with an agreement, April 4, the Boer delegates, who were chosen at the Vereeniging conference, arrived here May 18.

They consist of four representatives from the Transvaal and Orange River governments. Gen. De Wet and Gen. Delany are accompanied by eight secretaries. The party has been lodged in a house next door to the one occupied by Lord Kitchener.

Notice.

The annual reception and strawberry festival of the Old Ladies' Home of the Friends will take place at the Home, No. 281 South Broadway, on Friday, May 23, from 2 to 6 p. m.

The Grand evening car named "Chippewa Street," connects with a Broadway car that leaves the door of the Home. Friends are cordially invited.

SHOT HIS WIFE'S COMPANION.

Victim Ran Two Hundred Yards Before He Fell Dead.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ROLLA, Mo., May 22.—As a result of attentions Taylor Grisham was alleged to be paying N. A. Bradley of Yancy Mills, 15 miles from Rolla, he was shot and killed by Bradley, the woman's husband.

Bradley had been to Rolla to settle a note on which he was security for Grisham. When he returned home he asked his little wife where his wife was, and was told she had been away several hours.

Immediately, suspected Grisham, and, getting his rifle, he started up the valley toward a grove where he thought they might be. He got within 20 steps of them and when they saw him Mrs. Bradley cried, "Run, Taylor, run."

Bradley started in pursuit, and after passing his wife he shot Grisham, who continued to run. Bradley returned to his home. A party was organized to search for Grisham, and he was found dead about 200 yards from where he was shot. Bradley returned to Rolla and gave himself up to the prosecuting attorney. He was let out on $200 bond.

Grisham was proprietor of Yancy Mills distillery, and it until he went into bankruptcy about 18 months ago.

FREMONT VETERAN IS DEAD.

Henry Sladek Once Taught Music to St. Louisans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Mo., May 22.—Henry Sladek, who helped Fremont find the path to the West, was found dead on the river bank near this place, yesterday afternoon. He was stricken with heart disease while fishing. Sladek was 80 years old. He was a graduate of Prague University and a veteran of the revolution of 1848 in Bohemia. He fled to the United States and taught music to the children of the soldiers of the West. He served in the Union army during the civil war, becoming a Lieutenant from the ranks. After the war he entered business here.

KILLED BY FATHER-IN-LAW.

William C. Warren Tried to Force Interview With His Wife.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BRUNSWICK, Mo., May 22.—William C. Warren, a farmer, near this place, was shot and killed by his father-in-law, Foster Milburn, who lives here, yesterday afternoon at Bertringer's home.

Warren and his wife had had considerable trouble for a year.

She had him possessed several times for beating her. Yesterday she had been arrested.

UNITED STATES TOO SLOW.

Delay in Confirming Ambassador Gives England Precedence.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Through delay in the confirmation by the Senate of the nomination of H. G. Squires as minister to Cuba, the United States representatives will be out of the diplomatic corps at Havana.

The honor falls to the representative of Great Britain, who was consul-general before his elevation, which came on the day of the death of the republic, compelling him to present his credentials then.

No advantage is gained by Great Britain.

READ ALL OF THIS.

You Never Knew the Moment When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of St. Louis to know the value and use of a medicine, for if there is no occasion to employ it, in the meantime, frail humanity is subjected to so many influences and unforeseen contingencies that the wisest are totally unable to gauge the future.

Know, then, that Doan's Ointment will cure any case of hemorrhoids, commonly known as piles, or any disease of the cuticle or skin, generally termed eczema.

Mr. Coove Kratzner, retired carpenter, of 2223 Warren st., 17th Ward, says: "I did not know exactly what it was called, but from a description given in an advertisement about Doan's Ointment I thought I had eczema on my legs and body. They itched so bad that I could not sleep and scratching to get relief made matters worse. I tried a number of preparations and even consulted a physician, who did me little if any good. Doan's Ointment came to my notice through an advertisement and my daughter went to 'Wolf-Wilson's,' corner 6th and Washington av., for a box. It gave me relief the first night and in a few days cured absolutely."

Sold for 50 cents by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Sole Agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

IN OLD AGE.

the question of health becomes mainly a question of nutrition. If the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are kept in a well-nourished body, and little liability to disorders of the liver, bowels or such other disorders as may result from indigestion and lack of exercise.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and also diseases of other organs which are caused by the disease of the stomach.

By enabling the perfect nutrition of the body, it increases the vital power and promotes a vigorous old age.

"I was a sufferer from chronic diarrhea for five years," writes Mrs. Mary A. Aaron, of Rolla, Mo. "I tried all the remedies, but would give me relief for a short time only. My trouble would return as bad as ever. I commenced using Dr. Pierce's medicine and in a few days I felt better. I took three vials of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I am now well. I feel as if I should like to thank you for restoring me to health and my home."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

It all rests with Dr. Hyatt. If he can fix the weather, Boston will open at League Park in a game with the Cardinals. Yesterday's downpour about 2:30 in the afternoon ruined the chances of a game for the day and the contest was declared off.

If that of today does not meet a similar fate the crowd will be treated to two novelties, in all probability. Wiley Dunham, the Cardinals' new pitcher, arrived in town yesterday afternoon and gave Manager Donovan and Stanley Robinson the high sign. If he is in shape Donovan will work him in this afternoon's game.

Boston, according to Manager Buckenberger, will give Mal Eason, the gentleman recently picked up at Chicago, a chance to pitch against the Cardinals. Eason is the man, the Messrs. Robinson were after a short time ago.

Dunham is something shorter than the Washington monument, but doesn't look it. He is a big-boned, hardy fellow, and it is said his pitched ball can give Cy Young a ten-foot lead and beat them to the plate. If he is in shape he will be winning all his games for Columbus, he will prove a valuable addition to the team and a very much needed one. Donovan has but three pitchers upon whom he can rely. If Dunham does not pitch today, Eddie Murphy will probably occupy himself for the nine innings.

POST-DISPATCH EXPERT LEADS.

Figures stand for facts. Following are several facts set forth in figures which prove that the Post-Dispatch racing expert's form on the Fair Grounds races leads that of all other newspaper experts:

	Post-Dispatch	Other Experts
Number of races run to Thursday	99	99
Number of winners selected by the Post-Dispatch expert	32	32
Number of winners according to next best newspaper form	29	29
Number of winners third best newspaper form	28	28
Number of winners fourth best newspaper form	26	26
Number of winners fifth best newspaper form	25	25

What the figures do not show, however, is a still more interesting fact, that nearly all of the Post-Dispatch expert's selections have finished "in the money." Many of the winners and seconds have been called one, two.

In four successive days the Post-Dispatch expert named 14 winners in a possible 24, a percentage of nearly .600. What this means may be easily figured out on a basis of 10 starters to the average race.

Twenty-four chances to pick a winner were offered from a total of 240 horses, of all ages, descriptions and classes. The Post-Dispatch expert selected 14 out of these successfully, while most of his remaining selections were "in the money" beaten out a narrow margin for the first position.

In the early stage of the meeting the newspaper handicappers labored under a drawback on account of the bad weather. Form made for a fast track was upset by wet weather and vice versa. Withdrawals from races at post time also upset calculations, while the large number of two-year-olds who had never started made the task of selecting winners among the youngsters a difficult one.

BY R. D. WALSH.
This afternoon's card for the Fair Grounds races is an excellent one. The fourth, fifth and sixth are evenly balanced, and should produce close contests. The fourth is a handicap for 2-year-olds and upward, and has some of the best sprinters as the track entered in it.

When Kindred, Hootness, Bucoleuth, Frank Bell and Semillon meet at six furlongs there is bound to be a lively work. A handicap is nothing more than a equalization of weights by which every horse in the race is supposed to have an even chance.

FORCIBLE FACTS FOR FRIDAY BARGAIN SEEKERS!!

Our Immense Sale of Ladies'

Cool Shirt Waists.

Is proving immensely popular, as the crowded condition of our second floor continues to testify. Plenty still left, as this was the biggest shirt waist purchase ever made by a St. Louis store.

One thousand dozen fine waists closed out from A. Lewy & Co., 65 Blecker St. New York City—makers of the celebrated "Renown" brand, that has gained such an enviable reputation for perfect fit and splendid workmanship! This firm manufactures exclusively high-class goods, and makes no waists under $10.00 a dozen, but the backward spring caused an overproduction which they gladly sold to us at almost our own offer!

This season's choicest styles, including Waists Exactly Like Illustration, Made of:

Zephyr Gingham,	Woven Tissues,
Striped Madras,	Solid Chambray,
Fancy Batiste,	Corded Lawn,
Striped Cheviot,	Fancy Dimity,
Grass Linen,	White Lawns,
Fancy Pique,

Over 50 different patterns—in stripes, dots, solid colors and white—comprising the most fashionable shades of blue, pink, tan, red, oxblood, lavender and black on white grounds. All have extra full, long dip fronts, pique stock collars, pearl buttons and carefully made buttonholes. Waists that cannot be bought anywhere for less than $1 and many would be cheap at $1.25 and $1.50—your choice.

FITZ AND JEFF AGREE (?) AT LAST

Will Fight Before the San Francisco Club About July 4.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Jeffries and Fitzsimmons yesterday came to an agreement here to fight for the championship of the world. Fitzsimmons insisted upon being permitted to wear bandages and his point was granted.

The articles of agreement are to all intents and purposes the same as those signed some time ago in New York.

Seven clubs bid for the battle, Fitz waiving his right to assist in the selection and leaving the choice to Jeffries.

The champion chose the offer of 50 per cent made by the San Francisco club, and Fitzsimmons consented to fight before that organization.

No date has been arranged, but it is believed July 4 will be chosen.

A. C. KRAENZLEIN WEDDED.

University of Pennsylvania Athlete Marries a Belmar, N. J., Belle.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Dr. Alvin C. Kraenzlein, the well-known athlete of the University of Pennsylvania, now a practicing physician in Milwaukee, has been married at Belmar, N. J., to Miss Claudine Gilman, daughter of B. T. Gilman of Belmar.

Dr. Kraenzlein met Miss Gilman for the first time the day he broke the intercollegiate hurdle record in Philadelphia three years ago.

$60,000 TO $4000 IS BET ON HENO

Clarence Mackay Bets Heavily on His Great Colt for the Suburban.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Sixty thousand dollars against $4000 on Heno for the Suburban Handicap!

That is the bet James O'Leary has recorded. For Clarence Mackay and Graham Rice, the former bet $2000 on his colt against $4000; the latter bet $1000 against $4000, and O'Leary's book on Heno is closed.

This a good tip for the race. Heno is receiving a slow, careful preparation for it and Mr. Mackay has ordered his trainer, Charley Hill, to take all the time necessary to get him in the best possible condition.

Great precautions are taken daily for Heno's welfare. He is guarded against injury of all kinds. Fearful that a contest against Woodward might prove harmful, Mr. Mackay gave orders at the last minute to "scratch" him.

Denies Son's Marriage—P. J. Cunningham

denies the published report of the marriage of his son, William L., at Colorado Springs, to Mrs. Penelope Pennoque Dodd. He says his son is only 18 years old and went to Colorado on business.

A TEXAS WONDER.

READ THIS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22, 1902.—Dr. E. W. Hall—Dear Sir: I am writing your Texas Wonder for kidney and bladder trouble and it is the first medicine I have ever given and I can cheerfully recommend it to others suffering from any kidney or bladder disease. Yours truly, JOHN DERRICK, 126 South St.

HARVARD OARSMEN ARE SELECTED

Eight Men Who Will Row Against Yale Finally Decided On.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 22.—Harvard's "variety" crews finally have been graded and it is now believed that the eight men that will row against Yale have been chosen.

Brownell has been settled upon as stroke and Foster, who was looked upon as the only other man, has gone in at No. 4. Ayer, Shubrick and McGrew, all old "variety" oars, are at No. 7, No. 4 and No. 3 respectively.

Capt. Bullard has gone back to starboard and today rowed at No. 5 in the second heat, but he will sit at starboard in the final race at No. 3 in the first boat within a few days. James, the old No. 4 oar man, is at bow, while Swift, a new oar, is at No. 2. The order of the "variety" boat will be: Stucke, Brownell, No. 7, Ayer, Foster, No. 4, Bullard, No. 4, Shubrick, No. 3, McGrew, No. 2, Swift, bow, James.

THE PEOPLE'S POPULAR "WANT" ADVERTISEMENTS

Printed During the Month of

APRIL—in the POST-DISPATCH 35,983
In the Globe-Democrat—27,390

The Post-Dispatch is the great want medium because it is the great home paper.

Freedom for Cuba and "all over 10" for the Philippines is astounding inconsistency.

When a coal trust can run prices up in summer heat, what may it not do in winter cold?

A morning paper would be extremely dull for the bright evening papers that come to it.

With every St. Louis railroad forced to put on additional passenger cars and a large increase of the number of ticket sales ordered, it is clear that almost everybody is coming to St. Louis.

HONORABLE GENTS IN DEBATE.

The House of Delegates had an elegant time Tuesday night.
Delegate Trol, who had the floor, was interrupted by Delegate Kelly, who cried out "Sit down, you big chump." "Don't you call me a big chump," replied Delegate Trol, "or there'll be a battle."

Whereupon each invited the other to come outside and pursue the debate, but other honorable delegates intervened and the two excited members sat down.

Afterward Speaker Fontana tried to be a czar, and honorable Mr. Kelly again rose to the occasion. "We put one man on the burn when he tried that, and we'll do it again if we have to," he shouted. Still later, when the police appropriation bill was up for passage, Delegate Trol spoke eloquently against the measure. "Mr. Speaker," he said, "this bill is a robbery," qualifying his remark, however, with a choice cussword of large force and dimension.

All this was parliamentary. The practice of the House of Delegates is not hampered by any fine spun theories of courtesy.
They are all plain-spoken men, are these honorable gents.
"Everything goes" on the floor of the House of Delegates.
These are our rulers. They help to make our laws. They are our chosen representatives. As an exhibit the House of Delegates is second to none in point of interest. World's Fair visitors who desire to study the triumphs of democracy should not neglect this collection of curious creatures.

The World's Fair will be a bond of union for the whole world.

BRAVE MEN EVERYWHERE.

In the many thrilling stories told by survivors of the St. Pierre catastrophe, in Post-Dispatch special cables, a fact that must have impressed readers was the wonderful bravery of the men and women who found themselves left alive after the outbreak.
Though death still threatened, every one able to do so aided someone less fortunate. Every man, woman or child who could be saved was brought away. Personal suffering deterred no man from doing his full duty.

And in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch the touchingly pathetic letters of the miners entombed at Coal Creek gave further evidence of the fact that brave men are to be found everywhere.
While waiting for certain death, these men wrote their wives and children. In the effort to instill courage into the hearts of these weaker ones, soon to be bereaved of their sole guardians.

These things are worth reading over and over again. They are documents precious to humanity. But the reading ought to inspire us to do whatever may be done towards making conditions such that it will not be necessary for anyone to thus endure and suffer. Mine owners and miners must co-operate to make mines safer. We must make our cities, our railroads and our lives of industry safe. There will be need of bravery, no matter what we do. But human beings must not be sacrificed if any means can be found to prevent it.

A statue of Freedom has taken the place of the statue of Queen Isabella in Havana. It remains to be seen whether the Cubans will comprehend the meaning of such changes.

WANTED—EXPERT HAIR SPLITTERS.

The omission of the word "with" from the indictment may save Henry Wilson of St. Louis from the gallows. The misspelling of the word "indignant" in the will of E. L. McDonnell of Grand Rapids, Mich., may divert $30,000 into a channel different from the one he intended.

Thus do orthography and rhetoric combine to make work for the courts and trouble for mankind.

Litigants are never willing "to waive the quantum of the sin," against the strict letter of the law. They will have the whole pound of flesh or nothing. Perhaps it really does not matter, as a question of justice, whether Mr. Wilson killed his neighbor "with" a pistol or not. No doubt Mr. McDonnell, as well as his relatives and all the lawyers in Grand Rapids, knew that the most indignant woman when he wrote "indignant," but that makes no difference to the litigants. They see an opportunity to get hold of $30,000 which their esteemed relative was enabled to amass, though a little short on education, and they are determined not to let it pass without an effort.

The omission of the word "with" from the indictment could not possibly affect Mr. Wilson's victim at this late date, yet these four letters seem to be a matter of life and death with the man who handled the weapon.
"Truth is strange—stranger than fiction." From this little chapter of current history we learn that we can only kill a man "with" a pistol by beating him to death with it, and not by shooting, since it is the bullet that wounds, and not the pistol,
and that dictionaries are quite as important as dollars.

The despotism of Russia and the republic of France profess the warmest friendship for each other. Well, Russia itself may be a republic before the century shall have passed.

VOLCANOES INCREASE OUR KNOWLEDGE.

How the present volcanic disturbances may add to the store of human knowledge we cannot yet tell. It takes time for thinkers and investigators to weigh and consider such events in all their detail. But experience has shown that something can be learned from these phenomena that may be of inestimable value in the future.

In his book, "The Earth's Beginning," just published by D.
Appleton & Co., Sir Robert Ball tells how the terrible eruption of Krakatoa showed, for the first time in human history, that there exists 20 miles above the earth's surface a continuous current of air that moves in one direction faster than any hurricane or tornado ever known.

The immense cloud of dust cast forth by Krakatoa, to a height of 30 miles or more, revealed for the first time this tremendous current, against which no tree or house could stand for an instant, yet which never comes nearer than about 20 miles of the earth's surface.

In 13 days the dust from Krakatoa circled the earth, carried on this current. Everywhere this dust reddened the sky at sunset with a redness never before seen. And by comparing records, the scientists concluded that it was this dust, and nothing else, which thus traveled and made the skies lurid.

The wind which the dust from Krakatoa made visible moves at the rate of 120 miles a day, or 115 miles an hour. It circles the earth in the vicinity of the equator and seems to afford an incontestable proof of the revolution of the earth. But for Krakatoa and its eruption we should still have been ignorant of its existence.

The 20th of May, 1902, has been made memorable by the birth of the republic of Cuba, the arrival of Rochambeau and Lafayette in the United States and the meeting of the Czar of Russia and the President of France at Cronstadt.

FOR RIVER TRANSPORTATION.

Some of the letters from manufacturers received by the Post-Dispatch, commending the paper's work for river transportation and urging the building and maintaining of a through packet line, were published Tuesday. They show that the business men are beginning to realize the importance of river transportation to St. Louis.

The importance of the movement to utilize the river for transportation cannot be overestimated. It means the opening of a vast and growing territory to St. Louis trade. The river rates will compel the making of rail rates to the South which will enable St. Louis to get trade from which the city is now barred.
Another thing, if, having yielded to St. Louis' urgent plea for a channel, Congress ends that St. Louis does not use the river, will not Congress conclude that the expenditure of money on the upper river is waste? If St. Louis does not utilize the river, upon what ground can she ask again for a river appropriation?

The French armored cruiser Montcalm, picking its way through great blocks of Russian ice that the Czar and the French President might meet and greet each other is quite in contrast with the picture of a French army under Napoleon picking its way from Moscow through the snows of a bitter Russian winter.

WICKEDNESS IN THE WEST.

According to the Rev. Dr. F. Coyle of Denver, Colo., whose remarks in a New York church were printed in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, the West is immersed in wickedness and in peril of eternal destruction.

Denver especially is full of sin. Churches are dwindling and "Sinal no longer smokes and thunders."

"In the West," says the reverend Jeremiah, "life begins with irreligion, not with religion as here in the East. Iniquity is ripe. Evil abounds. Mormonism spreads her nauseous doctrines all through the western land. All the powers of darkness are at work, and if we want to do anything, nothing but the most widened, vigorous evangelistic campaign will avail."

Truly, we are in a perilous state. Who would have dreamed we were so wicked? We have been thinking for some time that we were tolerably decent folks, but it is plain that that was a gross error.

But perhaps the Rev. Coyle takes too gloomy a view. Maybe Sinal is only taking a rest while Pelee roars. While that great convulsion goes on there isn't much chance for other mountains to get any attention. And when the people of the West are satisfied that they have relieved all the suffering in Martinique and St. Vincent they may behave more to the reverend gentleman's satisfaction.

The Washington Post is mean enough to remind Emperor William that Frederick the Great, having left no children, could not be his ancestor, and that a real ancestor of his was George III, who made so much trouble for us a century and a quarter
ago. If emperors and other monarchs want to behave now, why stir the ashes of the dead past?

It seems that we need an extradition treaty with Canada by which criminals guilty of receiving stolen money may be returned to this country. There should be a general overhauling of our extradition treaties. Why should there be a refuge for lawbreakers anywhere in the civilized world?

Cuba is right at our door and it has long been thought that she should be a part of the United States. We give Cuba independence. The Philippines are 10,000 miles away, and troops and supplies are sent there at heavy cost, yet we do not give the Philippines independence.

Perhaps a Scotchman can be a better American than a native.
Mr. Carnegie's offer to pay $30,000,000—the price we paid Spain for the islands we are supposed to have won in war—if the United States would give the Philippines independence, is genuine Americanism.

Earthquakes in Guatemala, volcanoes in Martinique and St.
Vincent, rebellion and riot in Hayti, general manslaughter in Venezuela and the usual activity in South Africa and the Philippines—the world seems to be in an ugly mood.

Every assassinated President of the United States has been endeared to the people by the tragedy of his departure. The anarchists would be wise to note the fact. Every assassin's blow is a blow at his own cause.

It appears that in Kentucky a Republican court reverses the decisions of a Democratic court and that a Democratic court would reverse the decisions of a Republican court. This surely is politics gone mad.

Miles of the Missouri river near St. Joseph are being changed to "made ground" by railroads. Instead of letting the old stream "rip," St. Joseph will rip it.

Kentucky has no volcano, but when water 20 feet deep suddenly rolls down the Covington hills in a wave 100 yards wide,
she has something almost equally bad.

The high tariff organs appear not to know why the Cubans accepted the Platt amendment. They don't know anything that they do not want to know.

Though Riddle, the prominent anti-slavery man, just dead, lived to be 84 years old, he did not stay long enough to see the negro problem solved.

We can sympathize with the Boers and do the Philippines at the same time.

Rural mail carriers are not allowed to deliver verbal messidered worse than asking to be trusted for stamps.

Philanthropy at the World's Fair is to take the tabloid form

The Vast Inflation of Securities.

From the Louisville Evening Post.
There must come an end some time to this vast inflation of railroad and industrial securities. It may be wise to put a reasonable mortgage upon the future; it is not wise to weigh down the future with millions and billions of paper securities which the value of combinations, aside from the question of public policy and of economic production, there remains the financial question in connection with such transactions.

POET AND PHILOSOPHER

SETTLING THINGS.
I do not hold it proper
That any man should try
To rectify a brother's fault
By harping on his eye;
Nor does it seem a fitting thing,
That good results may come,
To land a pugilistic swing
And put him on the bum.

I do not hold it proper
To argue with an ax
In order to induce a man
To follow in your tracks;
Nor does it seem a wise course
To shoot him full of lead,
Or otherwise resort to force,
To clarify his head.

I do not hold it proper
To do what I do proper
To vilify, abuse, berate
Or curse your fellow man,
That won't convince him, it is plain,
And though you—him quite,
He'll only get a new grain,
And still believe he's right.

Post Markham's Latest.
Mr. Edwin Markham's poetry machine seems to have been in need of a little lubricating oil when he manufactured his little slab of verse, entitled "Cuba Arisen."
He says:
Men's eyes have watched you, Cuba, through the
When fate was deepening, their hearts did
Till you cast Europe by, flung off her chain,
Trod down to dust the impious pride of Spain.

Saying nothing whatever of that execrable "did" which Cuba ever cast Europe by, flung off her chain, and tread to dust the impious pride of Spain? What was your sympathetic Uncle Samuel doing all the time this flinging process was going on? What about Manila, Santiago Bay
San Juan Hill? What about Dewey,
Sampson, Schley, Shafter, Roosevelt, Joe Wheeler, Lawton and our gallant captains of the navy? What about the millions of dollars of war taxes paid by the American people? What about our soldiers dead on Cuban soil and in American camps? What about the terrible cost of the war, which we paid? What about the $30,000,000 expended by the United States government to place the baby republic of Cuba on its feet?

Can it be possible that Post Markham,
on the far Pacific coast, has never heard of all these things?

Chiding Alfonso.
If youthful King Alfonso
Shall make a boyish crack
Which shows, concerning government,
His knowledge is too slack,
Some old, impatient grandee,
Who'd like to use his fist,
May strike him with a cigarette
Or slap him on the wrist.

The world will take on a brighter hue,
Now that the painters' strike is settled.

"CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE"
The following extracts are from the instatement of the "Confessions" in the June Century:
A man does not like to be loved too solently; whereas, I think a woman builds within her heart an altar to an unknown
god, and leaves her happiest hour to steal away and worship. * * * * * Marrying tenderness is said to respond to tears. I do not find it so. Rather, I should say, that a man's devotion fades under salt water, like a bathing suit, proving unserviceable in the very place for which it is supposed to be adapted. * * * I begin to feel now, as I used to do before we were married, that a woman must not expect too much of a man;
she must not expect him to understand;
she must remind herself that he is a man and cannot. For a time we have been one, you and I. * * * Men are so busy and so insolently strong. There is something cruel in their physical freedom. * * * A sensible, middle-aged woman once told me that she and her husband came to the kindred of a divorce over the first house they built (they are rather an unusually happy couple), and that the only way she prevented the catastrophe was by saying, "Have it all your own way; I will not express an other wish about this house." Yet they lived in it comfortably for 15 years. * * *
Something of the bondage of maidenhood seems to remain in a wife, a kind of impossibility—I do not know how to express it—a power not heres which makes for silence, the terrible law which takes from a woman's love even that which it hath, and forbids her to too even her own husband. * * * Why is it that color means something less to me than it used to do?
Once I should have responded to the tinting of this room (it is really very good) in every nerve. Now, somehow, it does not seem to matter very much. I suppose that is physical, too. Most things

THE PEOPLE'S POPULAR "WANT" ADVERTISEMENTS

Printed During the Month of

APRIL—In the POST-DISPATCH 35,983

The Post-Dispatch is the great want medium because it is the greatest home paper.

Freedom for Cuba and "all over 10" for the Philippines is astonishing inconsistency.

When a cool trust can run prices up in summer heat, what may it not do in winter cold?
A morning paper would be extremely dull but for the bright evening papers that come to it.

With every St. Louis railroad forced to put on additional passenger cars and a large increase of the number of ticket sellers ordered, it is clear that almost everybody is coming to St. Louis.

HONORABLE GENTS IN DEBATE.

The House of Delegates had an elegant time Tuesday night. Delegate Trol, who had the floor, was interrupted by Delegate Kelly, who cried out "Sit down, you big chump." "Don't you call me a big chump," replied Delegate Trol, "or there'll be a battle."

Whereupon each invited the other to come outside and pursue the debate, but other honorable delegates intervened and the two excited members sat down.

Afterward Speaker Fontana cried to be a czar, and honorable Mr. Kelly again rose to the occasion. "We put one man on the bum when he tried that, and we'll do it again if we have to," he shouted. Still later, when the police appropriation bill was up for passage, Delegate Trol spoke eloquently against the measure. "Mr. Speaker," he said, "this bill is a robbery," qualifying his remark, however, with a choice cussword of large force and dimension.

All this was parliamentary. The practice of the House of Delegates is not hampered by any fine spun theories of courtesy. They are all plain-spoken men, are these honorable gents. "Everything goes" on the floor of the House of Delegates. These are our rulers. They help to make our laws. They are our chosen representatives. As an exhibit the House of Delegates is second to none in point of interest. World's Fair visitors who desire to study the triumphs of democracy should not neglect this collection of curious creatures.

The World's Fair will be a bond of union for the whole world. It is approved in every quarter of the globe.

BRAVE MEN EVERYWHERE.

In the many thrilling stories told by survivors of the St. Pierre catastrophe, in Post-Dispatch special cables, a fact that must have impressed readers was the wonderful bravery of the men and women who found themselves left alive after the outbreak. Though death still threatened every one able to do so aided someone less fortunate. Every man, woman or child who could be saved was brought away. Personal suffering deterred no man from doing his full duty.

And in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch the touchingly pathetic letters of the miners entombed at Coal Creek gave further evidence of the fact that brave men are to be found everywhere. While waiting for certain death, these men wrote their wives and children, in the effort to instill courage into the hearts of these weaker ones, soon to be bereaved of their sole guardians. These things are worth reading over and over again. They are documents precious to humanity. But the reading ought to inspire us to do whatever may be done towards making conditions such that it will not be necessary for anyone to thus endure and suffer. Mine owners and miners must co-operate to make mines safer. We must make our cities, our railroads and our lines of industry safe. There will be need of bravery, no matter what we do. But human beings must not be sacrificed if any means can be found to prevent it.

A statue of Freedom has taken the place of the statue of Queen Isabella in Havana. It remains to be seen whether the Cubans will comprehend the meaning of such changes.

WANTED—EXPERT HAIR SPLITTERS.

The omission of the word "with" from the indictment may save Henry Wilson of St. Louis from the gallows. The mis-spelling of the word "indignant" in the will of E. L. McDonnell of Grand Rapids, Mich., may divert $60,000 into a channel different from the one he intended.

Thus do orthography and rhetoric combine to make work for the courts and trouble for mankind.

Litigants are never willing "to waive the quantum of the sin," against the strict letter of the law. They will have the whole pound of flesh or nothing. Perhaps it really does not matter, as a question of justice, whether Mr. Wilson killed his neighbor "with" a pistol or not. No doubt Mr. McDonnell, as well as his relatives and all the lawyers in Grand Rapids, knew that he meant indignant women when he wrote "indignant," but that makes no difference to the litigants. They see an opportunity to get hold of $60,000 which their esteemed relative was enabled to amass, though a little short on education, and they are determined not to let it pass without an effort.

The omission of the word "with" from the indictment could not possibly affect Mr. Wilson's victim at this late date, yet those four letters seem to be a matter of life and death with the man who handled the weapon.

"Truth is stranger than fiction." From this little chapter of current history we learn that we can only kill a man "with" a pistol by beating him to death with it, and not by shooting, since it is the bullet that wounds, and not the pistol, and that dictionaries are quite as important as dollars.

The despotism of Russia and the republic of France profess the warmest friendship for each other. Well, Russia itself may be a republic before the century shall have passed.

VOLCANOES INCREASE OUR KNOWLEDGE.

How the present volcanic disturbances may add to the store of human knowledge we cannot yet tell. It takes time for thinkers and investigators to weigh and consider such events in all their detail. But experience has shown that something can be learned from these phenomena that may be of inestimable value in the future.

In his book "The Earth's Beginning," just published by D. Appleton & Co., Sir Robert Ball tells how the terrible eruption of Krakatoa showed, for the first time in human history, that there exists 25 miles above the earth's surface a continuous curtain of air that moves in one direction faster than any hurricane or tornado ever known.

The immense cloud of dust sent forth by Krakatoa, to a height of 20 miles or more, revealed for the first time this tremendous and current, against which no tree or house could stand for an instant, yet which never comes nearer than about 20 miles of the earth's surface.

In 15 days the dust from Krakatoa circled the earth, carried on this current. Everywhere this dust reddened the sky at sunset with a redness never before seen. And by comparing records, the scientists concluded that it was this dust, and nothing else, which thus traveled and made the skies lurid. The wind which the dust from Krakatoa made visible moves at the rate of 200 miles a day, or 110 miles an hour. It circles the earth in the vicinity of the equator and seems to afford an incontestable proof of the existence of the earth. But for Krakatoa and its eruption we should still have been ignorant of its existence.

The 29th of May, 1902, has been made memorable by the birth of the republic of Cuba, the arrival of Rochambeau and Lafayette in the United States and the meeting of the Czar of Russia and the President of France at Constat.

FOR RIVER TRANSPORTATION.

Some of the letters from manufacturers received by the Post-Dispatch, commending the paper's work for river transportation and urging the building and maintaining of a through packet line, were published Tuesday. They show that the business men are beginning to realize the importance of river transportation to St. Louis.

The importance of the movement to utilize the river for transportation cannot be overestimated. It means the opening of a vast and growing territory to St. Louis trade. The river rates will compel the making of rail rates to the South which will enable St. Louis to get trade from which the city is now barred.

Another thing, if, having yielded to St. Louis' urgent plea for a channel, Congress finds that St. Louis does not use the river, will not Congress conclude that the expenditure of money on the upper river is waste? If St. Louis does not utilize the river, upon what ground can she ask again for a river appropriation?

The French armored cruiser Montcalm, picking its way through the blocks of Russian ice that the Czar and the French President might meet and greet each other in quite a different way from the picture of a French army under Napoleon picking its way from Moscow through the snows of a bitter Russian winter.

WICKEDNESS IN THE WEST.

According to the Rev. Dr. F. Coyle of Denver, Colo., whose remarks in a New York church were printed in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, the West is immersed in wickedness and in peril of eternal destruction.

Denver especially is full of sin. Churches are dwindling and "Sinal no longer smokes and thunders." "In the West," says the reverend Jeremiah, "life begins with irreverence, not with religion as here in the East. Iniquity is ripe. Evil abounds. Mormonism spreads her noxious doctrines all through the western land. All the powers of darkness are at work, and if we want to do anything, nothing but the most widespread, vigorous evangelistic campaign will avail."

Truly, we are in a perilous state. Who would have dreamed we were so wicked? We have been thinking for some time that we were tolerably decent folks, but it is plain that that was a grievous error.

But perhaps the Rev. Coyle takes too gloomy a view. Maybe Sinal is only taking a rest while Pelee roars. While that great convulsion goes on there isn't much chance for other mountains to get any attention. And when the people of the West are satisfied that they have relieved all the suffering in Martinique and St. Vincent they may behave more to the reverend gentleman's satisfaction.

The Washington Post is mean enough to remind Emperor William that Frederick the Great, having left no children, could not be his ancestor, and that a real ancestor of his was George III, who made so much trouble for us a century and a quarter ago. If emperors and other monarchs want to behave now, why stir the ashes of the dead past?

It seems that we need an extradition treaty with Canada by which criminals guilty of receiving stolen money may be returned to this country. There should be a general overhauling of our extradition treaties. Why should there be a refuge for lawbreakers anywhere in the civilized world?

Cuba is right at our door and it has long been thought that she should be a part of the United States. We give Cuba independence. The Philippines are 10,000 miles away, and troops and supplies are sent there at heavy cost, yet we do not give the Philippines independence.

Perhaps a Scotchman can be a better American than a native Mr. Carnegie's offer to pay $20,000,000—the price we paid Spain for the islands we are supposed to have won in war—if the United States would give the Philippines independence, is genuine Americanism.

Earthquakes in Guatemala, volcanoes in Martinique and St. Vincent, rebellion and riot in Hayti, general manslaughter in Venezuela and the usual activity in South Africa and the Philippines—the world seems to be in an ugly mood.

Every assassinated President of the United States has been endeavored to the people by the tragedy of his departure. The anarchists would be wise to note the fact. Every assassin's blow is a blow at his own cause.

It appears that in Kentucky a Republican court reverses the decisions of a Democratic court, and that a Democratic court would reverse the decisions of a Republican court. This surely is politics gone mad.

Miles of the Missouri river near St. Joseph are being changed to "made ground" for railroads. Instead of letting the old stream "rip," St. Joseph will riprap it.

Kentucky has no volcano, but when water 20 feet deep suddenly rolls down the Covington hills in a wave 100 yards wide, she has something almost equally bad.

The high tariff organs appear not to know why the Cubans accepted the Platt amendment. They don't know anything that they do not want to know.

Though Riddle, the prominent anti-slavery man, just dead, lived to be 84 years old, he did not stay long enough to see the negro problem solved.

The Vast Inflation of Securities.

From the Louisville Evening Post.—This vast inflation of railroad and industrial securities. It may be wise to put a reasonable mortgage upon the future; it is not wise to weigh down the future with millions and billions of paper securities which the future itself cannot redeem.

WITH THE POST-DISPATCH DOET AND PHILOSOPHER

SETTLING THINGS.

I do not hold it proper
That any man should try
To rectify a brother's fault
By knocking out his ears;
Nor does it seem a fitting thing
That good results may come
To land a pugilistic swing
And put him on the bum.I do not hold it proper
To argue with an ax
In order to induce a man
To follow in your tracks;
Nor does it seem the wisest course
To shoot him full of lead;
Or otherwise resort to force,
To clarify his head.I do not hold it proper,
To encourage the plan,
To vilify, abuse, berate
Or curse your fellow man.
That won't convince him, it is plain,
And though you — him quite,
He'll only jabber back again,
And still believe he's right.

Poet Markham's Latest.

Mr. Edwin Markham's poetry machine seems to have been in need of a little lubricating oil when he manufactured his latest slab of verse, entitled "Cuba Arisen." He says:

Men's eyes have watched you, Cuba, through the dark,
When fate was deepening, their hearts did
Till you cast Europe by, flung off her chain,
Trod down to dust the impious pride of Spain.

Saying nothing whatever of that execrable "did dark," when did Cuba ever cast Europe by, flung off her chain, and tread to dust the impious pride of Spain? What was your sympathetic Uncle Samuel doing all the time this flinging process was going on? What about Manila, Santiago Bay and San Juan Hill? What about Dewey, Sampson, Schley, Shafter, Roosevelt, Joe Wheeler, Lawton and our gallant captains of the navy? What about the millions of dollars of war taxes paid by the American people? What about our soldiers dead on Cuban soil and in American camps? What about the terrible cost of the war, which we paid? What about the $50,000,000 expended by the United States government to place the baby republic of Cuba on its feet?

Can it be possible that Poet Markham, on the far Pacific coast, has never heard of all these things?

Chiding Alfonso.

If youthful King Alfonso
Shall make a boyish crack
Which shows, concerning government,
His knowledge is too slack,
Some old, impatient grandpa
Who'd like to use his fist,
May strike him with a cigarette
Or slap him on the wrist.The world will take on a brighter hue,
Now that the painters' strike is settled.

"CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE."

The following extracts are from the installment of the "Confessions" in the June Century; whereas, I think a woman builds within her heart an altar to an unknown god, and leaves her happiest hour to steal away and worship. "Masculine tenderness is said to respond to tears. I do not find it so. Rather, I should say, that a man's devotion fades under salt water, like a bathing suit, proving unserviceable in every element for which it is supposed to be adapted. For times we have been one, you and I. . . . Men are so busy and so insolently strong. There is something cruel in their physical freedom. . . . A sensible, middle-aged woman once told me she and her husband came to the brink of a divorce over the first house they built (they are rather an unusually happy couple), and that the only way she prevented the catastrophe was by saying, 'Have it all your own way; I will not express another wish about this house.' Yet they lived in it comfortably for 15 years. . . . Something of the bondage of maidenhood seems to remain in a wife, a kind of impossibility—I do not know how to express it—a power not herself, which makes her silence, the terrible law which takes from a woman's love even that which it hath, and forbids her to woo even her own husband. . . . Why is it that color means something less to me than it used to do? Once I should have responded to the tinting of this room (it is really very good) in every nerve. Now, somehow, it does not seem to matter very much. I suppose that is physical, too. Most things are, to women. Who said, 'There is a spiritual body?'"

Timotheus, placed on high,
Amid the tuncful choir,
With flying fingers touched the lyre:
The trembling notes ascend the sky,
And heavenly joys inspire.The song began from Jove,
Who left his blissful seats above,
(Such is the power of mighty love),
A dragon's fiery form belied the god:With monarch ears
The monarch hears,
Assumes the god,
Affects to nod,
And seems to shake the spheres.Thus long ago
Ere heaving bellows learned to blow,
While organs yet were mute;
Timotheus, to his breathing flute,
And sounding lyre,Could swell the soul of verse, or kindle soft desire.
At last divine Cecilia came,
Inventress of the vocal frame;
The sweet enthusiast, from her sacred store,
Enlarged the former narrow bounds,
And added length to solemn sounds.

ALWAYS SOMETHING TO LEARN.

President Eliot was arguing in favor of education by "showing how" before the kindergarten Wednesday night. He said that he was learning something every day by being "shown how."

He illustrated his point by describing the training of medical students, and concluded by telling of an old friend of his who had suddenly become deaf in one ear.

"How did this happen?" I asked him.

"Well, I was blowing my nose the other day, when I felt something snap in my ear, followed by an aching and dullness."

"When the doctor came he said the drum had split and asked how I did it."

"I only blew my nose," I told the doctor.

"Well, had you opened your mouth when you blew your nose you would not now have a damaged ear drum," was the doctor's reply.

"You see, my friend had lived 70 years and had never been shown how to blow his nose," concluded President Eliot. The application was appreciated and greeted with a great burst of laughter.—Boston Journal.

PUT THE MOUSE IN THE TRAP

Cut a circular piece of pasteboard the size shown above and paste the inverted trap on one side and the mouse on the other. Near the outer edge of the circle, as shown, fasten two strings opposite each other, so that they may be held between the forefinger and thumb in such a manner that the circle may be made to revolve rapidly. When it is in motion the transition is so quick that the mouse appears to be in the trap.

ALEXANDER'S FEAST.
Twas at the royal feast, for Persia won
By Philip's warlike pen;
Aloft in awful state
The god-like hero sat
On his imperial throne:
His valiant peers were placed around,
Their brows with roses and with myrtles bound;
They heard the monarch say, "Be silent, all!
This feast is not for you, but for the wall."
—Dryden.DIRGE FOR A SOLDIER.
Close his eyes; his work is done!
What to him is friend or foe?
Rise of moon, or set of sun,
Hand of man or kiss of woman?
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? He cannot know;
Lay him low!As a man may, he fought his fight,
Proved his truth by his endeavor;
Let him sleep in solemn night,
Sleep forever and forever.
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? He cannot know;
Lay him low!Fold him in his country's stars,
Roll the drum and fire the volley!
What to him are all our wars,
What but death bemocking folly?
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? He cannot know;
Lay him low!Leave him to God's watching eye;
Trust him to the hand that made him.
Mortal love weeps idly by;
God alone has power to aid him.
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? He cannot know;
Lay him low!

WARM WEATHER

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The closing week at the Columbia is proving a good one. The leading feature is Homer Lind's presentation of the one-act play, "Gringolles," a real topner.

"Folly" Moran and her pickaninies, one of the clever entertainers at Forest Park Highlands this week, came back from Europe two weeks ago. They have been touring and acquainting the Germans with the beauties of our native nation and their own. Miss Moran says that she never very much in the native land and not the real article. A European, she regarded as a noble blood. Miss Moran's pretty black face gained her immense popularity, which decreased somewhat after she had been in the "weiss maedchen" to the Berliners.

The last performance of "Nod" for the benefit of the Martha Parsons Hospital will be given at the Columbia on Saturday afternoon. It is well worth seeing.
to say nothing of the help it affords a worthy charity.

Rehearsals are in progress this week for local vaudeville talent to appear at the Fleming-Coulman benefit at Havlin's Sunday night. They show several decidedly bright features in the program.

Mannion Park will open its seventh annual summer season Sunday afternoon with an excellent vaudeville bill. Arthur Mack-ley, whose name is already well known to the local theatergoers, will appear in a little comedy which he will be supported by a clever company, and the others in the entertainment include Post and Clinton, sketch artists, Green and Wenden, character singers, Belle Belmont and Billy Howard.

Guy Lindsey, his elder pupils and the specially engaged professional actors are rehearsing valiantly night after night on the Olympic Theater stage in preparation of the first production of H. W. C. Block's political stage drama, "John Carver," on the nights of May 28 and 29. The play has some 30 speaking parts, is in five generous acts in the use of several very precocious juvenile characters, all of whom, the rehearsals show, are in excellent form. Mr.
Lindley has never before undertaken
so ambitious a work here in its preparation and is giving every moment of his preparation his personal supervision. Scenery and costumes are being made ready for Thursday and Friday nights are:

THURSDAY.
Overture—Saracen Slave. Ellenberg
Trumpet Solo—Lo Solf. Gounod
Polka—La Bella Fiorentina. Marchetti
Prelude and Selection. Gounod
Prelude—Flower Song, Duet, Finale Act III.
Waltz and Solo. Gounod
Solo by Signor Palma, Aida, Liberator, Curti.
March—Columbus. Wagner
Prelude—Parafal. Wagner
Evening Star. Wagner
Funeral March—Sigfried. Wagner
Overture—Pamphile. Wagner
March—American Republic. Wagner
Chorus—Zanetta. Wagner
Harp Solo. Sig. Setaro.
Metatole. Sig. Setaro.
Solo by Signor Palma, Aida, Martino and Curti.

The Suburban Garden opens on Sunday with a first-class show. Clark Brown of the Columbia will be in charge, which is all the guarantee needed that it will be up-to-date. Callie's Midgets will be the headliner.

Manager George Kingsbury of the Delmar
Opera Company arrived in the city from the East yesterday and rehearsals for "The Black Hussar," the first opera to be produced, began today. The opera season will open June 1.

For next week Col. Hawkins has engaged a very clever vaudeville bill, headed by Eleanor Falk and her ten numskulls, Artie Hall, who has not been here in several years. Hickey and Nelson, a comedy team, altogether new here, the Powers Brothers, in an exceedingly funny bicycle act, and Snyder and Buckley, musical comedians.

The Cherry Sisters will open at Midway Park Saturday evening. They will perform a novelty in the summer show business.

Hasaghen Park, the Coney Island of the West, at Grand avenue and Maramee street, is drawing large crowds this week, and everyone that has attended that garden
this week has enjoyed the performance immensely.

The show is an exceptionally good one.
